

Gives Life to the Scrubbing Brush

Old Dutch

When an Eskimo Dies
When an Eskimo is dying you will notice the inmates of the house moving everything out of doors; otherwise the spirit will be unable to find entrance of the door and rendered unfit for use. Among some tribes the dying man himself is borne outside. The Eskimo, however, will dig a narrow entrance tunnel but always through the smoke hole or back of the house, and the spirit will not find its way back. The Eskimos appear to have an uncanny presentiment of the approach of that day. When you see them preparing the graveclothes of one of their number you will find many things that are near death. You may observe that they do something to hasten the end, although they may stab or hang the hopelessly sick man at a distance. The Eskimo appears to be an instinctive feeling which is common to primitive people and which is often noticed in the lower animals.

investing in Railway Shares
Of the $3,313, shareholders of the Pennsylvania road 49 per cent. are Germans. The increase in the number of shareholders of the railways in the United States, since 1904 has been 50 per cent. The German people possess a degree of interest that is taken by the people themselves in the railways of their country. It is also an argument of government generosity in dealing with the railways, that the German people have invested their savings in them. The Canadian Pacific has sometimes 65,000 shareholders scattered over the world. The management of the railways in Germany, France, each country, but it is known that Germany, Belgium and France the majority of the shareholders reside abroad. The German peasants have invested their savings in the Canadian Pacific—the peasants who lost the German War Indemnity money, and who say their prayers, and the abroad and the abroad
of the Germans; it is the German continental U.S. and Southeast which to the north, and to the south, European countries a century ago.—London Mail

A Memorable Occasion
 Reynold Wolf tells this one of Nora Bayes:

Once Miss Bayes was appearing in a breakfast scene where eggs were being served, and a child sitting in a box wanted to draw his interest in the food.
 Stepping down to the footlights she tendered the youngster an egg, but his mother drew him back her child with a sign of annoyance.

"You should let the young man take it," said Miss Bayes, quietly. "It is unkind of you to refuse it." "It is this side of the footlights,"—Green Book Magazine.

SUMMER COMPLAINTS

KILL LITTLE ONES

At first sign of illness during the hot weather stop for a few paces. From

The donor of this font was the late Sir Hugh Williams, Bart., who resided in the north-room. When the fountain design was first conceived, it occurred to somebody that Sir Hugh's little girl would make excellent use of it, and so the fountain was named for this purpose. The little girl has now, of course, grown up and reside in London.

The Hon. the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Miss Lloyd George, appears in a stained glass window in the Congregational church at Fekkehampton, Dorset, which is a window which many people admire, for it is very charmingly depicted. It is a window which people look at are unaware of the dedication of St. Cecilia, and now that she is passed away this window constitutes a fitting memorial to her.

They are the "wires" of the "stall" and particularly the "wires" are long and thin. Their complexion is green and yellow and without distinct color, being due either to prior palor or to the use of cocaine or drugs. The cocaine users show a feature, a prominent cheekbone and usually have distinct rings on the fingers. The complexion of the hooker is high strong, because of dangers of the profession or the use of cocaine. The hookers are polite almost to the point of obsequiousness. They seldom use weapons and almost never resort to violence. On the rare occasion, generally well, but conspicuously, they avoid wearing jewelry or might lead to identification. —Chicago News

COOKING SYRUP
VEGETABLE—NOT NARCOTIC

PATENTS
Bristolhaugh & Co., head office,
Bristol east, Toronto, Canada.

Good at Figures
"I was not prone to over exaggerate the classroom," therefore I was both surprised and depressed when he came home one noon with an announcement, "I got 100 this time!"
"You're lovely, Sammy!" exclaimed his mother, and she kissed him on the cheek. "What a fine achievement in reading and fifty in 'rith-mics'—The multitude."

Free of Inquisition—Inquisitors are among all men; and few are free from them.
It is a most distressing common and often the suffering attendant of poverty.

Undoubtedly: a number of bathers who are drowned meet their deaths from causes that could be avoided by anybody at any moment, and when it comes in deep water few swimmers, even those who are good swimmers, turn on their backs and wait quietly until the attack has departed. So they go under. But there is another danger, quite as real, and which is not so well known, is probably less known. This is water inhaling. A swimmer or even a water skier, who is not used to breathing through his nostrils, which, passing through the pharynx, and behind the tongue, is guarded by a windpipe guard, gets into the windpipe, and death is all one would expect. Water inhaling is almost wholly confined to the sea and is almost wholly avoidable. It is all the same, it may happen anywhere.

may be beyond aid. The Tablets will prevent summer complaint if given occasionally as well child and will promptly cure these troubles if they come on suddenly. Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in every home where there are children because it is no other medicine so good and the mother has her guarantee of a government inspection and approval. It is safe. Mrs. Edward Corvill, Lombardy, Ont., says: "A mother who has once used Baby's Own Tablets for her children will never give up their use. I am grateful for them; 'they made a wonderful change in the health of my little son.' They cost me nothing, except a few cents dealer or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

An Easy One

visitors to the South's College chapel, are struck with its splendid architecture, more than its modern celebrity do duty as a sign of might. Perhaps the finest of these is a figure of a Crusader, which is usually called "Old Hickory," of Salisbury whose fine, upstanding figure and belligerence evidently commended the sculptor for this part.—Tit-Bits.

"Old Hickory"

The following story is told of how General Jackson won his title.

"Old Hickory," Captain William H. Miller, who was a near neighbor of the general, met with him during the campaign, and saw the campaign soldiers were moving rapidly to surmise the Indians and were without

[illegible]

Curtain Calls

"I know a man who had a hundred curtain calls," I woot.

"I suppose he was a matinee idol."

"No; he was a house furmisher."

"What African?"

"Wife—if you can't sleep, why don't you see a doctor?"

Husband (grudgingly)—And then have one more bill to keep me awake.

A suburban minister, during his discourse on "Sunday morning," said:

"There are three things in this world." The following day one of his flock discovered the good man pushing a wheelbarrow full of manure down the street.

"Say—'Ware parson! I'm glad to see you engaged in cutting your sermons loose!"

Mrs. Asa—Can't afford to let me go to the neighbors' if my own board there wouldn't cost much more than it does here.

My dear Annie, that my love; but think of all the money I'd have to spend entertaining myself in your absence!

and Great Britains where criminals are hanged. In Oldenburg they are hanged in the stocks where they are beaten in Spain: they are garroted.—London Telegraph

It Makes Pain. Ask any druggist or dealer in essences what is the most popular of the medicinal oils for pain in the joints, in the muscles, in the nerves, in the bones, in the arteries, and he will tell you that "Thomas' Electric Oil" is, in great measure, that; any other. The reason is, that it is the only oil that is really analgesic; that is, that any other oil

Coffee Keeps You Awake

In drawing a comparison between the alkaloid caffeine in coffee and the identical with that in tea, yet the associations in coffee are quite different. Caffeine in tea is associated with tannic acid, which occurs chiefly as a tannate, which is comparatively insoluble in the secretions of the stomach. In coffee, on the other hand, the caffeine is associated with organic acids, which would appear to be the explanation conundrum as follows: Why is a steel cell door like a glutton's dinner?

—Because you notice down, 3f course.
—Chicago Post.

Paraguay's Giant Wasp
Paraguay is the home of a giant wasp so terrible that most native forest hunters fear it more than they do snakes, centipedes or spiders.

—Not Much Mind
Pinefish: The mind that makes the body rich Miss Pickles—Don't worry. Poverty is no crime.—Birmingham Age-Herald

Vacation Joys
"I'll soon be time to get away
And spend two weeks on hill and plain
And spend every other day
Sit on a porch and watch it rain.

The Other Side of It
"The early bird catches the worm," observed the sage.

years days. General Jackson got to be very cold, but did not complain as much as I did. I was very warm, but among his half frozen soldiers. Captain Allen and his brother, John, cut off my hand with a sword, and the general and made a cover for the general, who was with difficulty prevented to crawl under it. The next morning I was taken to a village, surrounded, and seeing the tent kicked it over. As Jackson crawled from the tent, I saw a man, a white, old blackberry? Come out of your bark and make us in a drink."

One on the Professor (discussing organic and inorganic kingdoms)—Now, if I could shut my eyes so-and drop the bomb—and remain perfectly you would say I was a clod. But no, I leap, hark, then what do you say?—

Light Pupil—A clodhopper, sir.

Broadening

And—Don't you realize that marriage broadens a man?

Nedick—Oh, yes; I suppose it can. But that way, but "Ration" is the only way I've always used—London Express.

"Did you study?" asked one judge.
 "I studied the statutes of the state," answered the other.
 "I studied them hard. Ask me a question about them, and I'll answer you. That is where I got my knowledge."

"My friend," said one austere member of the examining board, "you better be very careful, for some of the legislature might look and hear everything you know."

Also "honest"
 "Well, then I'll just buy what I want and pay the bills; see, to you. Yes, but oughtn't we to agree to limit it to the limit?"

"Certainly not! Combinations of men to trade are illegal."

We Do
the Cooking

You avoid fussing over a hot stove---

Save time and energy---

Have a dish that will please the home folks!

A package of

Post Toasties

and some cream or good milk
--sometimes with berries or fruit--

A breakfast, lunch or supper

Fit for a King!

Toasties are sweet, crisp bits of Indian corn perfectly cooked and toasted---

Ready to eat from the package---

Nearly Spilled
"Wall," said the editor, "how about an old-style scandal story? It's la-
"No, sir," said the reporter.
"Not a chance?"
"Absolutely."

how much longer he has to wait for food.

Warts Removed Without Pain
Putnam's "ainless Wart and Corn Extractor" never fails to remove warts, corns, bunions, etc., in five to ten minutes, a few hours, give Putnam's a trial.

Both Sold
Deserted Wife telling grocer he owes her a few dollars for food for her own son (Grocer—Gosh! not I! So did I!—Baton Transcript.)
"You turn over a new leaf tonight down it."—Puck.

Repentance
"If our past actions regarded us they cannot be expiated for by our own severe reflections so effectually as by a contrary behavior."—Steele.

A young surron received late one evening a letter from three of his fellow practitioners:
"Dear Sir, We have decided to quit the club and join us at a game of bridge."
"Emmels, dear," he said to his wife, "I have just received a letter from three of our important case. There are three others who are already cured."
"Squire—I've not seen dear Mr. Wiggins lately. How is he?"
"Mr. Appleby—Dead, sir."
"Squire—What a terrible great malady!"
"—A—Oh, no, sir. Sir was a good enough woman, far as I know."—London Opinion.

Wherever we most misery we owe pity.—Dryden.

Try Murine Eye Remedy

The Opposite View

In a Great Western railway car, one day last week, London youth had disturbed and snored the passengers.

Build Concrete and Barn

YOU will find that at first and cheap

Concrete barnyards cannot be lured are saved in lower insurance need practically no repairs painting.

Concrete barnyards make a feeding floor and save feed bills, as your stock that you feed to them.

Send for this free book—
"Can Do With Concrete,"
to build your own concrete barn or any other building.

The Barns
wards

they are best in the end.
in and many dol ce rats." They d never need

the best kind many dollars in every particle

of the Farmer
owners just have own, feeding

Sold by Grocers.
Canadian Postum Cereal Co., Ltd.,
Windsor, Ont.

W. N. C. 1016

"You are a relation of the Rights, aren't you?"
 "Yes, a distant relation."
 "How distant?"
 "Well, as distant as they can be."
 "s."

It soothes red, itchy, watery eyes or granulated eyelids. Don't smart—soothes eye pain. Druggists sell Murine Eye Remedy, Liquid, 25c. 50c. Murine Eye Salve in Aseptic Tubes 25c. 50c. Eye Book Free by Mail.

An Eye Treatise Give for All Eyes that Need Care
MURINE EYE REMEDY CO., Chicago.

As the train passed Hanlonatic asylum he remarked:
"I often think how nice that asylum looks from the railway."
"Some day" growled an old gentleman, "you will probably have occasion to remark how nice the railway looks from the asylum."

Canada Cement Company
506 Herald Building

WHERE THE ARGOSIES OF THE NATIONS MEET

LIVERPOOL'S GREATNESS IN THE WORLD OF SHIPPING

he is heartily glad to see the last of it. The story goes that a royal visitor to his studio said, after looking over the pictures, "I wonder you can bear to part with them." "Sir," answered Sargent, "having finished a picture, I am like a hen which has laid an egg. 'Come and take it away, come and take away!' I exclaim. Its removal enables me to start another."—Sheffield

6. As soon as conditions permit keep more or less stock on the farm, in no other way can the fertility of the land be kept up.
7. At the earliest possible moment have the bedding so free of weeds that the manure can be applied direct from the stable and thus save much waste of fertilizer.
8. Arrange the rotation so that most of the hired help will be profitably employed all the year round, the rate of wages will be less and employees

The following are the values of the chief items in the exports of timber from Canada during the eleven months ending February, 1914: Planks and boards, $18,246,658; pine deals, $1,404,639; spruce and other deals, $6,319,652; wood blocks, etc., for pulp, $6,288,868; laths, $1,615,254; shingles, $1,067,730.

Continued
due to the industries
for immen-

Ever Eat It?
There is a dish of the olden time that has been crowded almost out of memory by the ruthless tide of comfy was denigrate. It was a very fine his appetite could eat it and he could go out in very weather and enjoy a tropical blessing. This food did not last long, for it was part of an event that was hurried by, and this was a grateful dispensation, too, for a person could be apt to eat much of it if it lasted long. But it was it passed away. This degenerate generation, filled with caramels and angels' food, couldn't appreciate it. But in those beautiful days before the war it was a beloved diet. We refer to hoghead cheese—Ohio State Journal.

[illegible]

The War

ting off of impor

the War, gives many an unexampled opportunity and immediate d

Canada will prosper at the expense of Continental Europe. This is not a time in Canada repining on the part of the business man. We must be careful, even frugal, but we must also be bold.

to him who has

Surgery Extraordinary
There appears to be no limit to the daring and skill of the modern surgeons, which are nowadays so amazing that they verge on the miraculous. Within the last few months we have read of the restoration of a blind man's sight by transplanting sections of the cornea from a horse's eye, which the surgeon had been obliged to remove; and of a girl, part of whose brain had been taken away, without the least harmful consequences. In another case the heart of a woman, who had been stabbed, was sewn up at a Paris hospital; and a few minutes later she walked off as sound and well as ever. A Swiss surgeon has removed the entire stomach of a

The patient, who gets along just as well without it, eating and digesting through the gullet; and a noseless man has been provided with a new organ from one of his own fingers. The patient's arm was encased in plaster, and for four weeks he had to hold his "live" finger to his face until it took root, when it was amputated to flourish as a nasal organ.

the absence of the party system difficult strictly to classify the dates. In a general way they see themselves in groups around well known political leaders.—York World.

According to the latest census in Austria, the population was divided as follows: in Austria, the Serbs (vrs), Bohemians, Slovaks, Poles, Ruthenians, Slovenes, Croats, and Romanians numbered 15,724,573, the Germans 9,761,4, the Italians 727,102, and the Hungarians 9,000. In Hungary the Serbs numbered 8,742,391, the Slovaks 7,977, and the Germans 2,135,181.

ships 60 m
at B merit (Kie have range 330 n golan
day
miles
miles
miles
"F
Boul
Bous
range

Canada
y home portunity development

the 1
Krom
170 rang
miles
borg,
"G statist
are p those

have
and statist

A
body
its p beaus
white

courage

Straight Talk a Virtue
Everybody respects the man who talks without circumlocution and who means what he says, whose language is not twisted and who goes right to the mark, never seeking to mislead or to misrepresent. Straight talk is a virtue that is practised all the time. Imagine what a different world this would be if there were no other kind in business, in domestic affairs, in society, in diplomacy—between employers and workers, politicians and people, government and governed and in the professional and business world! How large a part of many men's occupations would be gone if there was never anything but perfectly straight talk between men

A curious society has recently been inaugurated by Count Okama, the Japanese ex-premier. It is called "Hyakunin," or the Society for Centenarians. Count Okama, who believes that under proper conditions we ought to be able to live for 125 years, is its first president.

the stopping of all telegraphic and radio communication between the continents at the first breathings of war and the partial stopping by censorship of such communications from nations at war to non-belligerents, has rendered invaluable messages by wireless across and within the regions controlled by the belligerents and especially at sea and in the air. But the bottling up of communications in any place so that it cannot hold present war will result in the governmental control of private amateur wireless installation. Austria-Hungary has four important government wireless stations: at Ancona, Pola, and Sebenico, with a range of 250 miles by day and 500 by night, and Trieste with a range of 150 miles and a night range of 300.

Germany has seventeen wireless stations, of which eight are light-with small range or from 20 to 100 miles. The remaining stations are: Arkum, range 100 miles; Breafes, range 200 miles; Bulk (Bay), range 110 miles; Cana, day range 110 miles, night range 170 miles; Daurig, day range 110 miles, night range 600 miles; Hekad, range 110 miles; Nordde, range 420 miles, night range 135 miles; Sasserut (Rogen), range 110 miles; Swinemunde, day range 220 miles, night range 660 miles. The range has eighteen stations: Agne-sur-Mer, range 100 miles; Cat, range 160 miles; Brest, range 350 miles; Charbourg, range miles; Dieppe, range 55 miles; Cherbourg, range 350 miles; Brest, range 350 miles; Ouessant, range 350 miles; Port Vendres—; Rochefort, range 350 miles; S. Maries de la Mer, range 380 miles; Toulon—; several other stations are on the African coast. Russia has twenty-eight stations, of which the following are on or near Baltic sea; Helsingfors, range—Ludstadt, range—; Libau, range miles; Preste, range—; Reval,

e 170 miles; Riga, range 160
; Rouse, range 70 miles; Wl-
range—.

Great Britain has sixty-eight land
ons. Literally thousands of ships provided with wireless outfits, and e on board men-of-war usually a range of 300 miles or more, are thus equal to a good land on. Servia has no land stations.⁴

Story of a Picture

picture which attracts every's attention at the Tate gallery by position, its size and its strikingly is that of a lady riding on a horse through an archway into yard. He is dressed in a green riding habit of the time of Charles II., with a long red feather in gray hat. On her left stands a woman in an old gold velvet suit, with a red feather in her hat. This picture has a remarkable history, as well as numerous other pictures in the collection.

The catalogue calls it "The Portrait of a Gentleman," but it is also known as "Nell Gwynne," the name of the woman in the gold suit.

it by animals, and also some as "Diana Vernon." The fact is Sir Edwin Landseer left this picture unfinished. He painted the horse and its trappings, intending it for an equestrian portrait of Queen Victoria. He died and left the picture unfinished, and it was sent to Sir John Millar, who painted his own daughter in the old riding costume, together with mare, the dog and the background.

Heyes as a Prize Winner
The late Paul Heyes was probably the only man of letters who could boast of having obtained two important literary prizes with an interval of more than half a century between the

nds. All the world knows that he the Nobel prize. All the world a not know that his play, "The Sars" was allotted a prize in a matic competition as long ago as . He was a member of the House is of the good King Max of Bava- a sovereign whose joy it was to ound himself with men of science letters.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Mike Rossi returned last week and from a wild goose chase.

when a number of children will be the guests of Master Roy Hobkirk.

while proprietor of the Coleman hotel. Mr. Mutz denies liability.

Rev. Mr. Muncaster will attend	The civic engineering works
--------------------------------	-----------------------------

Dr. Leave No.	Date of Leave
1	Jan. 8
2	Jan. 8
26	Aug. 2

Debt		Amount	Amount	Amount	Amount
Term	Rate	2010	2009	2008	2007
12 months	4%	$4,000.00	$2,171.20	$2,571.14	$7,821.39
12 months	5%	$5,000.00	416.40	256.08	4,761.52
24 months	6		$2,297.45	407.45	$4,141.52
36 months		$8,000.00	$3,774.41	$2,523.41	$6,800.00